Numb. XXII.] Reuben Searey THE [VOL. IV.

KENTUCKY GAZETTE

SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1791.

LEXINGTON: Printed by JOHN BRADFORD at his OFFICE at the corner of Main and Croſs Streets, where Subſcriptions advertiſements &c. for this paper, are thankfully received, and PRINTING in its different branches done with Care and Expedition.

FOR SALE

EIghty acres of land, lying in Fayette county, near the head of Jeſſamine creek, for which twelve months credit will be allowed, the purchaſer giving bond with approved ſecurity; Any perſon inclining to purchaſe the ſame may know the terms by applying to the ſubſcriber.

Nicholas Lewis.

Danville, Dec. 12, 1790. tf.

A SCHOOL

WILL be opened at Walnut Hill, within eighty poles of my houſe, on the 24th inſtant, in which the Latin, Greek and ſciences will be taught by Hugh Wilſon; at the ſame time the ſchool ſhall be under my care and direction.

JAMES CRAWFORD,

Jan. 11, 1790.

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber, a brown horſe, about 4 years old, about 14 hands and a half high. Appraiſed to £10.

George Brown.

Oct. 29, 1790. ℔ 3/8.

ALL perſons are hereby forewarned from taking an aſſignment on a bond paſſed from me to Richard Maſterſon for ſeventy five pound in trade payable the firſt day of October laſt, as col. Boone has a receipt againſt a bond aſſigned to me for the conveyance of land for the payment of which the above bond was given.

Nicholas Welch.

Jan. 25, 1891.

LEFT on a ſtump in a ſtreet of Lexington, on the 6th inſt. between M' Millin's and January's lots, Silver WATCH; Whoever delivers the ſame to the Printer hereof, ſhall receive ONE DOLLAR.

January 15, 1791.

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber near Lexington, in Fayette county, a red and white pied cow, moſtly red, appears to be about ten or eleven years old, marked with an under keel in the left, and underkeel and hole in the right ear; Appraiſed to £.2 · 10.

John M'Cord.

Dec. 14, 1790.

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber in Woodford county, on north Elkhorn, a ſorrel horſe, about 13½ hands high, 9 years old, a ſmall white ſpot on his ſpur vein a ſore back; Appraiſed to £6.

John Sterriott.

Oct. 7, 1790. ℔

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber on Huſton, a red and white cow 3 years old, with a calf by her, marked with a ſwallow fork in her left ear; Appraiſed to £.3.

Alſo a brindle with ſome white under her belly, 3 years old, marked with a ſlit in the right ear; Appraiſed to £.2.

Jedediah Pullen.

Sept. 11, 1790. ℔

RUNaway from the ſubſcriber, a negro man named Tom ſpare built, about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, of a yellow complexion, a ſcar on one of his cheeks, had on a ſhort blue coat, old linen breeches and wrappers, very ſenſible, and it is ſuſpected he will attempt to paſs for a free man; Whoever delivers the ſaid negro to the ſubſcriber ſhall have 5 dollars if taken within 25 miles, and if over 10 dollars, Wm. PRICE.

January 15, 1791

WANTED. An APPRENTICE to the GUN and SILVER-SMITH's buſineſs.

EDWARD WEST Jun.

Lexington, Nov. 13, 1790.

Juſt Arrived

And now opening by

TEGARDEN and M'CULLOUGH

At their ſtore in Lexington,

A General aſſortment of dry goods and groceries, well adapted to the ſeaſon, which they will diſpoſe of on the loweſt terms for caſh or furrs.

Lexington, Jan. 28, 1791.

WANTED a quantity of raw hides green or dryed, for which 3d. per lb. will be given for the green, and in proportion for dryed, in caſh or leather.

Wm. MORTON.

Oct. 23, 1790.

THE PENSYLVANIA PACKET will be received by every opportunity, from Philadelphia, and will be filed in my houſe, for the peruſal of any gentleman who may apply.

THOMAS YOUNG.

Lexington Dec. 18, 1790.

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber living on Cane run, an Iron gray horſe colt, one year old, with a bald face, both hind legs white nearly to the ham. Appraiſed £2.

Joſ. M'Mrtry.

Oct. 26, 1790.

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber living in the forks of Dicks river, a brown mare, fourteen hands high, about thirteen years old, a ſtar in her forehead, with ſome ſaddle ſpots on her back; Appraiſed to £.3. 10.

Thomas Thornbery.

Jan. 1, 1791. ℔

627

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 8, 1790.

Copy of the ſpeech delivered by the Preſident of the United States, to both houſes of Congreſs, in the Senate chamber.

Fellow Citizens of the Senate and Houſe of Repreſentatives,

IN meeting you again I feel much ſatisfaction in being able to repeat my congratulations on the favorable proſpects which continue to diſtinguiſh our public affairs. The abundant fruits of another year have bleſſed our country with plenty, and with the means of a flouriſhing commerce. The progreſs of public credit is witneſſed by a conſiderable riſe of American ſtock abroad as well as at home; and the revenues allotted for this and other national purpoſes, have been productive beyond the calculations by which they were regulated: This latter circumſtance is the more pleaſing, as it is not only a proof of the fertility of our reſources, but as it aſſures us of a further increaſe of the national reſpectability and credit; and let me add, as it bears an honorable teſtimony to the patriotiſm and integrity of the mercantile and marine part of our citizens, the punctuality of the former in diſcharging their engagements has been exemplary.

In conforming to the powers veſted in me by the acts of the laſt ſeſſion, a loan of three millions of florins, towards which ſome proviſional meaſures had previouſly taken place, has been completed in Holland, as well the celerity with which it has been filled, as the nature of the terms (conſidering the more than ordinary demand for borrowing, created by the ſituation of Europe) give a reaſonable hope, that the further execution of thoſe powers may proceed with advantage and ſucceſs. The ſecretary of the Treaſury, has my direction to communicate ſuch further particulars as may be requiſite for more preciſe information.

Since your laſt ſeſſions, I have received communications, by which it appears, that the diſtrict of Kentucky, at preſent a part of Virginia, has concurred in certain propoſitions contained in a law of that ſtate; in conſequence of which the diſtrict is to become a diſtinct member of the union, in caſe the requiſite ſanction of Congreſs be added; for this ſanction application is now made. I doubt not you will conſider the papers on this very important tranſaction to be laid before you. The liberality and harmony with which it has been conducted, will be found to do great honor to both the parties; and the ſentiments of warm attachment to the union and its preſent government, expreſſed by our fellow citizens of Kentucky, cannot fail to add an affectionate concern for their particular welfare to the other conſiderations under which you will decide on the caſe ſubmitted to you.

It has been heretofore known to Congreſs, that frequent incurſions have been made on our frontier ſettlements by certain hoſtile tribes of Indians, from the North-Weſt ſide of the Ohio: Theſe with ſome of the tribes dwelling on and near the Wabaſh, have of late been particularly active in their depredations; and being emboldened by the impunity of their crimes, and aided by ſuch parts of the neighbouring tribes as could be ſeduced to join in their hoſtilities, or afford them a retreat for their priſoners and plunder, they have inſtead of liſtening to the humane invitations and overtures made on the part of the United ſtates, renewed their violences with alacrity and greater effect. The lives of a number of valuable citizens have thus been ſacrificed, and ſome of them under circumſtances peculiarly ſhocking, whilſt others have been carried into a deplorable captivity.

Theſe aggravated provocations rendered it eſſential to the ſafety of the Weſtern Settlements, that the aggreſſors ſhould be made ſenſible, that the government of the union is not leſs capable of puniſhing their crimes, than it is diſpoſed to reſpect their rights, and reward their attachments. As this object could not be effected by defenſive meaſures, it became neceſſary to put in force the act, which impowers the Preſident to call out the militia for the protection of the frontiers. And I have accordingly authoriſed an expedition, in which the regular troops in that quarter are combined with ſuch draughts of militia as were deemed ſufficient. The event of the meaſure is yet unknown to me. The ſecretary of War is directed to lay before you a ſtatement of the information on which it is founded, as well as an eſtimate of the expence with which it will be attended.

The diſturbed ſituation of Europe, and particularly the critical poſture of the great maritime powers, whilſt it ought to make us more thankful for the general peace and ſecurity enjoyed by the United States, reminds us, at the ſame time of the circumſpection with which it becomes us to preſerve theſe bleſſings. It requires alſo that we ſhould not overlook the tendency of a war, and even of preparations for a war among the nations moſt concerned in active commerce with this country, to abridge the means, and thereby at leaſt enhance the price of tranſporting its valuable productions to their proper markets. I recommend it to your ſerious reflections how far and in what mode, it may be expedient to guard againſt embarraſſments from theſe contingencies, by ſuch encouragements to our own navigation as will render our commerce and agriculture leſs dependent on foreign bottoms, which may fail us in the very moment moſt intereſting to both of theſe great objects. Our fiſheries and the tranſportation of our own produce, offer us abundant means for guarding ourſelves againſt the evil.

Your attention ſeems to be not leſs due to that particular branch of our trade which belongs to the Mediterranean. So many circumſtances unite in rendering the preſent ſtate of it diſtreſsful to us, that you will not think any deliberations miſemployed which may lead to its relief and protection.

The laws you have already paſſed for the eſtabliſhment of a judiciary ſyſtem, have opened the doors of juſtice to all deſcriptions of perſons. You will conſider in your wiſdom, whether improvements in that ſyſtem may yet be made; and particularly whether an uniform proceſs of executions on ſentences iſſued from the Federal Courts, be not deſirable through all the ſtates.

The patronage of our commerce, of our merchants and Seamen, has called for the appointment of conſuls in foreign countries. It ſeems expedient to regulate by law the exerciſe of that juriſdiction, and thoſe functions which are permitted them, either by expreſs conventions, or by a friendly indulgence in the places of their reſidence. The Conſular Convention too, with his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, has ſtipulated in certain caſes, the aid of national authority to his conſuls eſtabliſhed here. Some legiſlative proviſion is requiſite, to carry theſe ſtipulations into full effect.

The eſtabliſhment of the militia; of a mint; of ſtandards of weights and meaſures; of the poſt office and poſt roads, are ſubjects which (I preſume) you will reſume of courſe, and which are abundantly urged by their own importance.

Gentlemen of the houſe of repreſentatives.

The ſufficiency of the revenues you have eſtabliſhed, for the objects to which they are appropriated, leaves no doubt, that the reſiduary proviſions will be commenſurate to the other objects, for which the public faith ſtands now pledged. Allow me moreover to hope, that it will be a favorite policy with you not merely to ſecure a payment of the intereſt of the debt funded, but as far, and as faſt, as the growing reſources of the country will permit, to exonorate it of the principle itſelf. The appropriation you have made of the Weſtern lands explains your diſpoſitions on this ſubject; and I am perſuaded, that, the ſooner that valuable fund can be made to contribute, along with other means, to the actual reduction of the public debt, the more ſalutary will the meaſure be to every public intereſt, as well as the more ſatisfactory to our Conſtituents.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and Houſe of Repreſentatives.

In purſuing the various and weighty buſineſs of the preſent ſeſſion, I indulge the fulleſt perſuaſion, that your conſultations will be equally marked with wiſdom, and animated by the love of your country. In whatever belongs to my duty, you ſhall have all the co-operation which an undiminiſhed zeal for its welfare can inſpire. It will be hap-by for us both, and our beſt reward, if, by a ſucceſsful adminiſtration of our reſpective truſts, we can make the eſtabliſhed govern. ment more and more inſtrumental in promo ting the good of our fellow citizens, and more and more the object of their attach ments and confidence.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

United States, Dec. 8, 1790.

TO BE SOLD

To the higheſt bidder for ready caſh, on the firſt Tueſday in February next, (being Jefferſon court day,) in the town of Louiſville

THE whole eſtate both real and perſonal, of George Meriwether deceaſed—conſiſting of about twenty likely Virginia born ſlaves,—men, women, boys and girls, ſeveral of which are good houſe ſervants, and one a valuable houſe carpenter,—ſome houſe hold and kitcin furniture, a quantity of books, amongſt which are ſome valuable law authors—The ſale of the negroes to begin at 10 o' clock and continue untill all is ſold.—The ſale will then be adjourned to the houſe of mr. John Hughs's for part of the houſe-hold furniture, the other part together with one negro girl, will be ſold at the houſe of the ſubſcriber.

Likewiſe will be ſold on the 10th day of the March Genl. court in the town of Danville for ready cash 1100 acres of land on the waters of ſilver creek, 1490 acres on clover creek, likewiſe a parcel of land in the forks of Dicks river adjoining the lands of col. Paulding.

NICHOLAS MERIWETHER.
Ex'or of George Meriwether.

December 29, 1790

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber living on Dick's river near Bowman's mill a bay horſe, about 4 feet 8 or 9 inches high, 3 or 4 years old. Appraiſed to £10.

Abraham Buford.

Jan. 28, 1790.

ALL perſons having claims againſt the eſtate of col. William Chriſtian deceaſed, are requeſted to bring them in, properly adjuſted and they ſhall be paid.

ALEX. S. BULLITT Exr.

RUN AWAY

FRom the ſubſcriber in Mercer county on thurſday 24th of November 1790, a negro man named Phil, about twenty five years old, well ſet, and about five feet ſix or ſeven inches high, has a round face, flat noſe, wide mouth, and thick lips when he laughs, he generally draws up his noſe, and ſhews moſt of his teeth, which are very white, had on when he went off, an old hat, a linſey hunting ſhirt and coat of the ſame ſtuff, both dyed a tooty colour, a jump jacket, an old ſhirt, leather breeches, blue and white yarn ſtockings, a pair of wrappers, a pair of old ſhoes, and a pair of braſs buckles—it is expected he has taken other clothes with him and will change his dreſs. Five pounds reward will be given to any perſon that takes him a live and delivered ſafe to me, or ten pounds for his head ſever'd from his body, to be paid in cattle at caſh price.

℔ 3*w*. JOHN MEAUX.

ALL perſons are hereby forewarned from taking an aſſignment on a bond given by me to Jacob Myers for ſeventyſeven pounds in caſh or negroes payable the firſt day of March next, and dated the 17th day of April 1790, as I am determined not to pay it until I get a title to a certain tract of land for the payment for which the above bond was given.

Francis Wyatt.

Jan. 11, 1791. ℔ 3 3*w*

WHereas my wife Chriſtiana, has eloped from my bed and board, I hereby forewarn all perſons from trading with her on my account, as I will pay no debt of her contracting.

JOHN CAPHART.

Jan. 2, 1791. ℔ 1*w*

WANTED

A quantity of old ſilver, for which I will give five ſhillings per ounce.

SAMUEL AYRES Silverſmith.

Lexington Jan. 13, 1790. 3*w*

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber near the big road leading to Limeſtone, within 2 miles of Bourbon, a red heifer and calf, 2 years old, poſt marked with two crops and two ſlits, branded on the right horn H B. Appraiſed to £2 15.

WILLIAM CALDWELL.

October 19, 1790. ℔

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber, living in Bourbon county, near Col. Garrard's, a ſorrel mare with a blaze face branded on the near ſhoulder D ſome ſaddle ſpots, about 11 years old; Appraiſed to £4.

Samuel Rule.

Oct. 5, 1790. ℔

TAKEN up by the ſubſcriber, on cane run, a red ſteer with ſome white on his back and belly, about five years old, with a ſwallow fork in each ear, and underkeel in the right; Approiſed to £1 10.

James Dinwiddie.

March 9, 1790.

 The above ſtray was gazetted in Auguſt laſt, but the deſcription wrong, owing to an error in the copy.

TO BE SOLD

At public ſale, to the higheſt bidder, on Thurſday the 17th day of February near the head of Tates creek, in Madiſon county,

THE eſtate of William Hoy deceaſed, conſiſting of negroes of different ages, horſes, cattle, ſheep and hogs, a good waggon, a ſet of ſurveyors inſtruments of the beſt kind, and ſeveral other articles too tedious to mention: Twelve months credit will be given for all ſums above forty ſhillings; Bond and good ſecurity will be required.

JOHN SOUTH
RICH TUNSTALL. } Exr.

January 10, 1791.

CORNELIUS BEATTY & Co.
HAVE juſt received an additional ſupply of

MERCHANDISE

AT their ſtore in Lexington, at the corner of main and croſs ſtreets, which they will diſpoſe of on the moſt moderate terms for caſh, furs and public ſecurities

As this ſtore will be regularly ſupplied with goods, a general aſſortment will be conſtantly kept up in future.

I Mean to write a diſſertation of the climate peculiar to this Weſtern Hemiſphere, alſo a treatiſe on nervous and putrid diſeaſes founded from a Series of practice

3w P. ROOTES.

STRAYED from the ſubſcriber, living on South Elk-Horn near judge Wallace's, about the firſt of November laſt, a Sorrel mare, full five feet high, ſeven years old, a ſmall blaze in her face, blind in one eye, long mane and ſwitch tail—Alſo a roan horſe, near the ſame height, and age of the former, both natural trotters and no brands recollected; Whoever delivers the above deſcribed creatures to the ſubſcriber ſhall receive five dollars reward.

Leonard Fleming.

January 24, 1791. 1m

WHereas the ſubſcriber hired a certain William Tanner to go on the late expedition and lent him a rifle gun, a blanket and tommahawk, and gave him a note for three ſecond rate cows and calves payable ſome time in September laſt. All perſons are hereby forewarned from taking an aſſignment on ſaid note, for I am determined never to pay ſaid note until the ſaid gun blanket and tommahawk is returned to me.

CHARLES BLAND.

Jan. 1, 1791.

THE ſubſcriber will give 15ſ per hundred for fat corn fedpork delivered here, weighing not leſs than 130lb. for all under that weight, he will give 12ſ6. but will not receive any under one hundred weight. Any man delivering a quantity, averaging 130lb. ſhall receive the higheſt price, he will pay a part in ſalt at 15ſ for 50lb. and the remainder in goods at caſh price; he will give 16ſ3 for any Merchantable beef continuing yet fat, delivered at the Mouth of Hickman to Mr. Andrew Hare, at his Ware-houſe, and the fifth quarter given in. He wonts a few ſtall fed beyes, none that is not thick fat, can properly come under that deſcription, for ſuch he will give 23ſ per hundred delivered to Andrew Hare at Hickman, and the fifth quarter given in, or 18ſ without it, leaving in the Kidney fat, the weight of the beeves either to be adjudged by two judicious diſintereſted men, or killed and weighed on the delivery at Hickman, a part in ſalt ſhall be paid at Hickman at 15ſ for 50lb. and Mr. Hare's order for the ballance in goods will be paid here at caſh price. The ſtall fed beeves will be received until the 15th of February. The ſubſcriber will give the higheſt price for all kind of Furr, and Bear ſkins.

WILL. LEAVY,
for Andrew Holmes & Co.

Lexington, Jan. 15, 1790.

* It is requeſted that the people will bring in their pork on Tueſdays and Thurſdays.*

WANTED

A quantity of

HEMP

FOR which twenty ſhillings per hundred will be given in goods by PETER JANUARY & SON.

NOTICE

IS hereby given, that I intend ſtarting up the river on the fifteenth of March from Limeſtone, on my way to Pittsburgh; I will give good encouragement to paſſengers who will come well armed.

JAMES LEMON.

TO BE SOLD

FOR CASH

A HOUSE and lot in the town of Lexington, alſo 150 acres of land of the firſt quality, within five miles of Lexington; enquire of the printer. tf

---

JUST ARRIVED,

And now opening for ſale by

ALEXANDER AND JAMES

PARKER

A large and general aſſortment of

GOODS

Well calculated for the ſeaſon,

IN two ſtores in this place, one of them oppoſite the Court houſe, the other at their old ſtand below the Printing-Office; which they will ſell on moderate terms for Caſh, militia certificates, final ſettlements, rye, bearſkins, furs of all kinds, green and dry hides.

Alſo a few caſks of butter if delivered ſhortly.

Lexington Sept. 27, 1790.

WHereas, I paſſed my bond to a certain Chriſtopher Chinn, for the ſum of fifty pounds payable in bar Iron or caſtings, for which bond ſaid Chinn was to make me a good ſufficient title to a tract of land on the Ohio, adjoining or near crooked creek, and which title has not been made according to contract; I therefore forewarn all and every perſon or perſons, from taking an aſſignment on ſaidbond as I am determined not to payit, or any part thereof. untill he fulfils his contract.

3w JAMES LEMON.